

Information Retrieval

Information retrieval systems find relevant documents in response to a user query.

BM25 is a lexical retrieval method based on term frequency and document statistics.

Dense retrieval represents documents and queries as numerical embeddings.

Semantic similarity allows dense retrieval to find related text even when exact words differ.

Retrieval quality can be evaluated using metrics such as Precision@k and Recall@k.